How to use this result in Rational Career Building

This result is reflective of preferences and natural choices rather than just “capability” /“capacity” or IQ. Rational Career Building should be based on Capacity, Practicality and preferences (Liking). With so many choices opening up for career selection and building, although this test does not measure IQ or assess practicality of choices, it is extremely useful for more informed career decisions thereby an individual, at any time in the career path, not only finds the career successful but also rewarding.

Basic Personality Traits:

It is important to understand yourself and the personality which impacts your likeliness to succeed at various careers. When armed with an understanding of your strengths and non-strengths, and an awareness of what you truly value, you are in an excellent position to pick a rewarding career.

Synopsis:

Seek meaning and connection in ideas, relationships, and material possessions. Want to understand what motivates people and are insightful about others. Conscientious and committed to their values. Develop a clear vision about how best to serve the common good. Organized and decisive in implementing their vision.

Most likely Career Choices for you based on your personality type:

INFJs focus on possibilities. They handle facts by applying attention to people's potential. Thus they tend to become insightful and enthusiasts. The INFJ is an individual who needs more out of a career than a job. They need to feel as if everything they do in their lives is in sync with their strong value systems- with what they believe to be right. Accordingly, the INFJ should choose a career in which they are able to live their daily lives in accordance with their deeply held principles, and which supports them in their life quest to be doing something meaningful. Since, INFJs have such strong value systems, and persistent intuitive visions which lend them a sense of "knowing", they do best in positions in which they are leaders, rather than followers. Although they can happily follow individuals who are leading in a direction which the INFJ fully supports, they will be very unhappy following in any other situation.

They find scope for their interest in understanding and encouraging people. The career fields that may be suitable, are, Psychology, Human resources, Teaching, Research, Literature, Religious service, Health care, Art & Music etc.

Possible career paths for the INFJ can be- (This is not an exhaustive list)

- Teachers
- Medical Doctors/ Dentists
- Alternative health care practitioners
- Psychologists
- Psychiatrists
- Counselors, Social Workers
- Musicians/ Artists
- Photographers
- Research oriented Engineering/Science
- Some IT careers
- Digital Marketing

Detailed description of your type and other observations:

INFJs generally have following traits:

- Intuitively understand people and situations
- Idealistic
- Complex and deep
- Sensitive and compassionate towards people
- Service-oriented
- Future-oriented
- Value deep, authentic relationships
- Reserved about expressing their true selves
- Dislike dealing with details unless they enhance or promote their vision
- Constantly seeking meaning and purpose in everything
- Creative and visionary

- Intense and tightly-wound
- Can work logically and rationally- use their intuition to understand the goal and work backwards towards it.

Characteristics and learning style:

INFJs are interested in new ideas about how to understand people, symbolic and metaphorical activities. They learn best by imagining, creating with others, writing. They need general direction, with freedom to do it their own creative way, frequent positive feedback. They want warmth, enthusiasm, humor, individual recognition from the teacher.

Likely to be not interested in the following careers:

A majority of people of your personality type have not selected the following careers as their natural choice.

- Careers wherein they have to follow someone else's ideologies (such as Sales, Marketing)
- Careers wherein they are supervised, guided by others (Eg. Technical Support)
- Accounting and Finance

Please remember that the above observations on least likely career choices are based on statistical observations and do not preclude you from attempting those careers, nor suggests failure in those areas. It is merely reflecting on your likely lesser preference for those careers.

Potential tools for development:

- Participate in group activities, teamwork. Socialize.
- Mindmaps. Identify short-term goals. Practice more. Methodically analyze your personal strengths and weaknesses.
- Look beyond personal aspects into systemic side. Create rational system. Maintain consistency to a policy.
- Open up a little to alternative ideas. Be flexible and lenient to others.
